2. Comment. The KVP train probably carried a unit of the Mechanized Division Dresden from the Nochten firing range and troop training grounds back to its home station. Klitten is a railroad station which serves the Nochten troop training grounds. 25X1
3. Comment. The KVP train probably carried elements of the Infantry Officers' School Doebern which returned from the Nochten troop training grounds. 25X1
4. Comment. The shipment probably included volunteers who were recruited by the Bezirksregistrierverwaltung Cottbus. 25X1
5. Comment. The composition of the KVP train indicates that the train possibly carried the bulk of a Dresden officers' school which returned from the Nochten troop training grounds. 25X1
6. Comment. Beilrode is known as a railroad station which serves the Zuellsdorf firing range and troop training grounds north of Torgau. The installation has mostly been used by artillery and tank units of the Motorized Rifle Division Halle, the Motorized Rifle Division Erfurt, and the KVP Corps. The AAA regiment and the howitzer artillery regiment of the corps are listed as being in Leipzig, while the artillery regiment of the Motorized Rifle Division Halle is stationed in Weissenfels. 25X1
